Re: In the Matter of USTelecom for Forbearance Pursuant to 47 U.S.C. Section 160(c); WC Docket No. 18-141; Category 1

Dear FCC,

I was previously a customer of AT&T, and did not like how they raised my prices of every year. They asked me first to convert to their new lines at a lower price, and then they went ahead to raise the price the next year. All this to get a DSL service that was slow, and not competitive with other providers. Then they refused to lower my price until I decided to drop them. If this continues, I am sorry to say that other competitors would not be able to get customers. I moved to Sonic and have been happy with their service, and hate to see that the big companies like AT&T cut off their chance of providing customers with the great internet service that they are currently providing. I would like other customers like me to have the choice the get the best service at a reasonable price, and stop big companies from creating a monopoly and continuing to do price hikes .
